Honored at his retirement party, held Wednesday, October 12, Julie Skene shares the limelight with his wife Judy.

“Going to the highest bidder” — one slightly used motorcycle which Julie Skene never really learned to ride. A fractured shoulder prevented him from attaining professional ranking.

THE SUBJECT IS . . . “Surface Preparation Systems and Technology” (including discussion on Shop and Portable Blast Cleaning Systems) as presented by “Duke” Mallory, Manager, Technical Development-Marketing, early last week at the 26th Paint Short Course — University of Missouri, Rolla Extension Division. The five-day course was presented to painting contractors, paint inspectors, maintenance engineers, paint specifiers and architects.

FINISHING '77 was the theme of the recently held seminar by the Society of Manufacturing Engineers. Fred Baldauf, Industry Manager-Transportation, and Carter Dreves, Manager of Public Relations, addressed the group on the “Principles of Blast Cleaning” with an emphasis on steel plate cleaning.

ITT GRINNELL, Statesboro, Georgia requested an In-Plant Training Session for their plant personnel and we obliged with instruction by Gene Tarabek, Ardee Freeman, Kate McKeown and field personnel Hank Gibson and Gary Weil. In two, four-hour sessions over 60 ITT personnel participated in the training sessions.

DOING THE WORK OF THE LORD . . . A politician said to Horace Greeley one day: "I am a self-made man." "That, sir," replied Greeley, "relieves the Almighty of a terrible responsibility."

YOU CAN SUFFOCATE a thought by blanketing it with too many words.

"Feeling tired, headachy, listless, worn out? Then why don't you shut off the TV and go to bed?"
