MARCH 16, 1979

ST. PATRICK'S DAY — MARCH 17 — May the roads rise with you and the wind be always at your back; and may the Lord hold you in the hollow of His hand.

So should the luck of the Irish and all the bright blarney along with the charm of its Isle —

Give zing to your spring,
a blush to your cheeks
and sweeten your St. Pat's Day smile.

THEN AS NOW . . . There are persons who constantly clamor and complain of oppression, speculation, and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations, and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the foundation of industry and dry all streams.

In a country of unbounded liberty they clamor against oppression. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air shouting agrarian doctrines.

In a country where the wages of labor are beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer he is but an oppressed slave . . .

Sir, what can such men want? What do they mean? They mean nothing, sir, but to enjoy the fruits of another man's labor . . .

— Daniel Webster, U.S. Senate, 1838
