WHEELABRATOR-SPONSORED EXHIBIT DRAWS RAVES . . . According to Dr. Porter, Director, Notre Dame's Snite Museum of Art, the Wheelabrator-sponsored photo exhibit Life — The First Decade has enjoyed the largest attendance of any exhibit displayed so far at the museum. Local reviewers added their own list of positive adjectives to the already impressive list compiled as the exhibit made its tour of a number of major galleries throughout the country. Anyone who missed the special preview for employees should treat themselves and their families to one of the finest collections of period photography ever assembled. The exhibit will be returned to the Time-Life Archives at the completion of the Notre Dame display on December 28.

Engineering's Monte Visser and his camera captured fellow employees and their families at the special preview.

PLEASE NOTE NUMBERS CHANGE . . .

RETIREMENTS . . . Best wishes for long and happy retirements to Michele "Mike" Signorino (top photo) and James Braden (bottom photo). Mike retired with 17 years of company service and served as a General Order Filler-Stores. Jim, a Painter Helper-Balcrank Sheet Metal and Plating, has 9 years of service.

TALK ABOUT INGENUITY . . . Sales is the name of their game and West Central's ingenious Ed Fioretti (l) and Jack Kleinke (r) show you that they are not about to miss a sale because of the current air traffic controller's strike. In truth — Jack's father recently retired from United Airlines with 37 years of service. As captain of a 747, he flew the Chicago to Honolulu run. Ed and Jack decided to have some fun at the retirement party hence, the photo. (Actually, we know if you guys had to pilot that plane to get the sale — you would!)

WHEELABRATOR-SPONSORED J.A.'S TOUR PLANT . . . On Monte Visser's camera, some of the members of the two Wheelabrator-sponsored Junior Achievement companies — "Pennsational Products" and "The Little Kings." Wheelabrator employees advising these youths are Michael Vance, Dan Ridens (pictured above l and r), Rich Ramonis, Donna Derucki, Joe Horvath and Monte (not on camera).

WHEELABRATOR CAMARADERIE . . . Bargaining Unit retirees had the opportunity to bring each other up-to-date on activities and events when they gathered for the annual fall dinner, sponsored by U.A.W. Local 995.
