BLASTRAC DSC-10 IS ON THE ROAD...

The first proto-type Blastrac DSC-10 was recently completed by our R&D Department. The DSC-10 was introduced at the World of Concrete Show held in Las Vegas, January 14-18. The DSC-10, a diesel powered self-contained portable unit is designed to be used in large open areas and remote outdoor locations where electric power is not readily available. In combination with other existing Blastrac electric powered models, the DSC-10 helps to provide Blastrac with the most complete product line in the portable blast equipment industry.
